Seven Oaks Country Club

April 26, 2010

Dear Friends,

Garden Pathways will honor four outstanding "Women with a Heart for Bakersfield" at the eighth annual High Tea on Wednesday, June 9 at 11:30 a.m. (11:00 a.m. social) at Seven Oaks County Club: Kim Albers, Cathy Butler, Susan Hersberger, and Dayna Nichols. We are delighted to recognize these notable women who have a proven record of exceptional community service and leadership, and have made a positive and lasting impact on our community through their efforts. We also will pay tribute to all of our former "Women with a Heart for Bakersfield" honorees. Our honorees share Garden Pathways' heart for our community. Join us in honoring these outstanding women who inspire, mentor, and empower others to generously serve our community.

Garden Pathways needs your help. If you will join us, we promise you a memorable and inspirational time, with great people doing good work.

You can help change the future of our community by partnering with Garden Pathways to build healthy families. Garden Pathways, a trusted provider of comprehensive mentoring and education services for all ages, changes lives from the inside out through hope and relationship. Our programs encourage and equip children, youth, and adults to realize their potential and build productive lives. We are expanding our mentoring and education services in response to the critical needs expressed by our community. It is only with your help that we can meet those needs and continue to serve our community.

Your investment in the lives of at-risk youth and families as they move towards educational advancement and self-sufficiency is a lasting investment that will make our community stronger.
